RAIL LABOR BOARD MAKES RADICAL CHANGES IN R. R. OVERTIME WORK RULES

Ruling, Effective Friday, Hits Maintenance of Way Employees A Ten Hour Jolt for Overtime

BLOW TO 8 HOUR DAY

Chicago, Illinois, December 14.—Radical changes in overtime pay of a half million railroad workers were made public today by the United States Railroad Labor Board.

The Board, in announcing new working rules for the railroad, stated that starting Friday, maintenance employees would not be paid time and a half for overtime until a day of ten hours had been completed. Under the old rules time and a half was paid after eight hours.

The ruling will save the railroads millions of dollars a year in operating expenses.

CLASH DEVELOPES BETWEEN COLLINS AND IRISH HEAD

Michael Collins, Leader
Of Sinn Fein Army,
Resents Implied Insult.

DEVALERA CLAIMS POWER MIS-USED

Army Leader Challenges Pres. Of Republic For His Statement.

Dublin, Ireland, Dec. 14.—A bitter clash between Eamonn De Valera and Michael Collins marked the opening of the Dail Eireann to consider the Anglo-Irish peace treaty here today.

"The Irish peace delegates at London exceeded their instructions" De Valera charged.

Collins, leader of the Sinn Fein
army, who signed the peace pact, leaped to the floor, crying "Someone may call me a traitor, I'm ready to meet them anytime, anywhere,
now as in the past."

Decide on Public Session
The Dail decided to hold public sessions from 11 o'clock this morning to hear open discussion on the treaty. This decision was reached after an agreement to hold a preliminary secret meeting this morning.

It was during the discussion on holding the secret session that the clash between DeValera and Collins developed.

DeValera began the argument by challenging the right of the peace delegates to sign the treaty, contending the pact should have been sent to Dublin for final discussion before it was signed.

The argument proceeded heatedly
until Collins took the floor and challenged the Irish president. He waved his arms wildly, but other delegates sat calmly and grintly in their chairs without showing signs of emotion.

At 2 p. m. the Dail recessed until 4 o'clock when the secret session will be resumed.

WOMAN, CONFESSED SLAYER OF DOCTOR, UNDER HEAVY GUARD

New York, Dec. 14.—Mrs. William Schaffer Raizen, aged 29, confessioner of the murder of Dr. Abraham L. Glickstein, was being held under close guard today for fear she would commit suicide. Shortly after her surrender she declared "I am not afraid to die."

If Mrs. Raizen's case goes to trial the jury will have to decide whether a woman, her mind unhinged after 8 years of distant association with a man, is guilty of murder if she shoots him when she becomes a bride.

Shoe Leads To Identification Of Dead Man

Grafton, W. Va., Dec. 14.—
The body of Samuel M. Beanes aged 51, was found in the woods near Claude early today; his clothing burned almost off his body and his side filled with buckshot. It is believed Beanes' gun was accidentally discharged while he was returning home from hunting.

Identification of Beanes was made by a boot on one foot, the sole piece of apparel that that had not been burned up.

FREAK FREIGHT WRECK BLOCKS PENNSY TRACKS

Twenty-Eight Cars Of Long Coal Train Are
Derailed And Piled
Up Near Lewistown.

Lewistown, Pa., Dec. 14.—Passenger traffic was resumed on the Pennsylvania railroad here this morning after being held up all night by a freight wreck three miles east of here which barricaded all four tracks. The wreck was one of the real freaks of railroading.

In a 98 car train of loaded coal cars, the first to derail was the tenth, but the succeeding forty kept to the track. The last seventeen, however, staged a wreck all by themselves and buckled, the result being that the road bed was torn up and enormous piles of coal and wreckage blocked the tracks.

All wrecking crews which could be reached worked all night opening one track for passenger traffic.

ARMS PARLEY UNITY CERTAIN

Complete Agreement On Naval Limitation May Be Parley Christmas Gift To The World

Washington, D. C., December 14.—The Arms Limitation Conference's big Christmas gift to the world will be a complete agreement on the American proposals for naval armament limitation, it was predicted in all quarters of the Arms Parley today.

Japan, although accepting the Hughes 5-5-3 capital ship ratio, is seeking to retain the mighty "Matsu"—pride of her battlefleet. This, it is said, will not prevent an agreement but may make necessary re-alignment of the battleships of the three powers.

In the Senate it was reliably reported that William Mc-Adoo and his party would fight the treaty, but ratification seemed almost certain.

Agreement on naval limitation and fortification of the Pacific Islands appeared near today as the Far East Committee met again to discuss Chinese affairs, while Japan and China still haggled over the Shantung question.

Civil Court Hears Suit To Recover For Auto Damages

The case of Frank Bogroski, of Osceola, against John Millward, Jr., was taken up this morning in civil court. This suit grows out of an automobile accident which occurred March 23rd last. Bogroski's Ford got the worst of an encounter with Millward's car. He is suing for more than one hundred dollars worth of repairs to his machine and also wants compensation for personal injuries received.

The plaintiff is represented by Chase & Chase, while Edwards and Arnold are looking after Millward's interests.

Mrs. J. Eaton of 3rd Street is confined to her home with the mumps.

JURY HEARING AUTO CRASH CASE UNABLE TO AGREE

No Verdict Rendered In Suit Against Pennsy
Growing Out Of Fatal
Auto Accident.

The jury in the case of John S.
Dickinson, of Knox township, against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, for damages to an automobile when struck by an engine at the Tranny crossing at Blain City, which was tried in Civil Court Monday and Tuesday, were unable to agree on a verdict and were discharged this morning when they reported that fact to the Court.

The accident occurred the night of a wrestling bout at Blain City and the automobile which was wrecked was occupied by Boardman men, one of whom was killed.

STATE INSPECTOR HERE TO CONFER ON BRIDGE SITES

F. M. Sawyer, Of Harrisburg In Clearfield
On Official Trip.

MEETS COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

Deer Creek And Rolling
Stone Bridges Under Consideration Now.

F. M. Sawyer, of Harrisburg, recently appointed by Governor Sprout as Inspector and Engineer in connection with the rebuilding of the bridge over the west branch of the Susquehanna River at Deer Creek and Rolling Stone was a visitor to Clearfield today in connection with his duties.

He met the County Commissioners and took up with them the matter of the building of these bridges. Under the usual proceedings in such cases Inspector Sawyer will go up on the ground at the two bridge sites and after looking same over will prepare plans and specifications for the proposed new bridges.

These plans will be presented to the Board of Public Building and Grounds at Harrisburg, whose duty it is to build all state bridges and when the plans have been passed upon and have been found satisfactory to the Board bids for the construction of the bridge will then be advertised for and contracts for the erection of the bridges awarded, provided of course, there is sufficient money in the fund set aside for that purpose to build these bridges.

Flood Washes Out Bridges
The Deer Creek and Rolling Stone bridges were taken out by the ice-flood during the spring breakup of 1920. Application was made to the State Board for their replacement by the Clearfield County Commissioners, shortly after the bridges were destroyed but no funds were available and accordingly nothing further has been done toward placing them since that time until the present.

The last legislature made an appropriation to the fund out of which such improvements as these are to be made but whether or not there will be funds enough available when these plans and specifications soon to be in the making are prepared will depend entirely upon the speed of the local officials interested as similar projects are awaiting action in several sections of the state.

Eternal vigilance and prompt efficient "digging in" are necessary on behalf of the County Commissioners and other county officials and we believe they can be depended upon to have these bridges replaced the coming summer and fall.

OFFICIAL LID GOES ON HUNTING SEASON THURSDAY--NIMRODS BUSY

Adverse Weather Conditions Play Big Part In Keeping Down
Big Pheasant Record--Deer
Season Highly Successful

The hunting season in Pennsylvania
the year 1921 closes at Sundown
Thursday evening and at that time the army of almost half a million legal hunters will be expected to clean and oil both rifles and shot guns and consign them to their respective racks there to remain until the fall of 1922 arrives.

The past season has been a very peculiar one in many respects and while much game was bagged, adverse weather conditions, especially in the latter end of the bird season resulted in many pheasants escaping the hunters' guns which should account for the increase in the number of pheasants for next season.

The deer season has been highly successful. Secretary Gordon of the State Game Commission estimating

According to the reports from State Game Protectors not over 20 illegal deer were slain in the county this year as against 30 last season.

With the Hunters
Rev. Reeve arrived home from his deer camp at noon today and said that while he did not do any hunting his license arrived. When the plagued thing did catch up with him yesterday afternoon he made up for lost time. He saw six or eight deer but the only one carrying horns refused to come close enough to permit shooting at him.

These Gorton camp hunters beat it out for headquarters this morning determined to get a buck or have the season die seeing them make the attempt. A wireless from Game keeper Rearick at 3 o'clock reported heavy bring in the vicinity of Gorton and home friends of these mighty nim-rods are hoping again for the best.

HIGH SCHOOL CAGE STARS TO OPEN UP SEASON FRIDAY

Juniata High Will Help Clearfield Squad Pry Off Basketball Lid At High School Gym.

By DICK LEIPOLD

Friday evening the local high school's winter athletic program will open, when the Red and Black basketball team plays the Juniata High School outfit.

Much interest is being shown in the coming contest by both student body and towns people, as this year's floor squad will be composed, (with the exception of one man) of new players.

Last season's championship team was composed principally of graduating students and of the five regulars "Pete" Martin, is the only player attending school. Martin will leave the 1922 passers.

Squads' Development Held Up
Coach Crane called out the basketball candidates the week following Thanksgiving vacation, forty men reporting for uniforms. The coaches were just getting the squad in good condition, when the flood came along and worked its way into the gym. Practice had to be called off for about ten days to get the floor in shape and as a result, the team's development is about two weeks behind the planned schedule and two weeks means a great deal when an entirely new team is to be moulded from green material.

However, Coach Crane has been rushing the squad along as fast as the candidates condition permitted and with a little extra work tonight and tomorrow, expects to have a bunch of passers ready for Friday's fray.

Developing For Future
The basketball squad is composed of under class men, as most of the players who will represent the local institution this winter will also be on hand next season. Many first and second year men are coming along nicely, but from the way things are shaping the Varsity squad will without a doubt include several men who will not graduate until '23 and '24, thus assuring Clearfield High a championship team in the years to come.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By "Skinney"

We always did feel for a lady in distress and felt like making every effort to alleviate any distress among our fair friends, were it possible for us to do so. Our good offices have been solicited by a friend for a Clearfield acquaintance of his who is in dire straits just now with more to follow.

This lady was so unfortunate as to lose a handful of her own teeth and was forced to have them replaced by a local dentist. Four of the store teeth were on a plate and while dining at a local feed foundry on a particularly tough piece of steak, a too strenuous bit caused the plate to hurt her gums and the pesky thing was slyly removed, the lady wrapping it in her handkerchief and putting it in her pocket, as she thought. When she got home and attempted to salvage the teeth from her pocket, imagine her consternation when she found plate and teeth missing. Where they went is a mystery as diligent search everywhere has failed to find them. To add to the good lady's misery she has received an invitation to eat a Christmas Turkey dinner with a relative in a neighboring town or city, but if those teeth are not found in the meantime, it will be soup and mush to home instead of turkey and fixin's in society abroad.

Anybody finding the missing plate and its four necessary "tomb stones" will be suitably rewarded and gratefully remembered by returning same to the "Colyam" man.

We attended the late Bill Spackman's literary at Hillsdale School, back in our "salad days" once upon a time, and heard Bill recite with that old time gusto, which made those old literaries so interesting, that touching story of "how Betty and I killed the bear." A companion story to the above which could be styled "How wife and I didn't kill the buck" might be written concerning the adventures of a local business man and his own wife while deer hunting on the Penfield Pike Tuesday.

This pair who have been hunting small game considerably this fall, decided to try their hand at deer slaying yesterday. Posting themselves on a runway near Kennedy Park Game Reserve they were soon rewarded by the sight of a monster buck slipping through the brush below the road in an effort to get into the game sanctuary. The head of the buck, however, his better half that he would take first shot at the buck as he stepped into the road and if he failed to bring the quarry down she was to take a crack at it as it hopped up the bank under the wire. The plan was carried out as arranged. When the buck hit the road the gentleman fired and the startled buck hopped up that bank in one long bound. As he was in the air, wife's gun cracked and when the scared buck had gained the wire a handful of deer hair slowly settled to the ground where he had entered the reserve. Gathering up this evidence that the buck had been hit the man rushed excitedly to Game Keeper Reardon's home and told that gentleman that he had badly wounded a buck which had made the game sanctuary and he would like to have him go in and bring the carcass out. A search was made but no dead deer was found. The question of who allowed that deer to escape and whose rifle bullet clipped the hair from its hide is today a fruitful source for argument in that household and is likely to continue so for some time.

Dr. Magnus Hirschfeld, a noted European Medical Counsellor, says: "talking, constant talking" is a cure for all the ills mankind is heir to. The basic principle of the cure is that to get well, you must air your troubles and thus relieve your mind and soul of the worries and griefs and sorrows, either real or fancied—in other words talk them away. Now we know why women as a rule live much longer than men.

You'll notice that the Hupmobile "gets away" ahead of the crowd as easily and surely as it settles down to a long, lugging pull.

VAMPS THE STYLE FOR NEXT SEASON

(By United Press)

London, Dec. 14.—The mode for debutantes is to be soft, soothing, sneaky, alluring, tigerish.

London demoiselles will copy the American vamps, say the West End fashion experts.

"Complexion, coiffure and dress, all combine to produce the tigerish effect," said one. "The walk, too should be slow and possess a feline grace and allurements."

Eyes must be large, eyebrows slanting like the "Chinese" hair dark and sleek, dresses dark, clinging, with perhaps one deep red rose. Cheeks, instead of being a delicate refreshing rose, must have a marble pallor. And the lips must be very red. Perhaps some of the spare henna roots and lip stick left over from the vampire era in the states will find a market over here.

THE FARMER—HIS VIEW

Are the farmers justified in their complaints on the way Agriculture has been restricted by economic conditions and other affairs beyond their immediate control? This serious question, one affecting the very root and foundation of the nation's prosperity, was well answered by John A. McSparran, worthy Master of the Pennsylvania State Grange at its 49th annual session held at York today.

Speaking officially he declared:

"I need not remind you that we are met here for serious business. Wherever Farm leaders sit in council, whether in Granges or other Farm Organizations, the occasion is a serious one and the result of their deliberations fraught with deep import. Once the Farmer was a careless individual. "If he did not like conditions in one State he pulled up stakes and went to new soil and new environment. No such opportunity remains for him now. The best lands are taken and many of the newer settlements are already overcapitalized and the very pioneers are facing a readjustment of values that bids fair to wipe out the equities their hard work and rigorous life have earned in their properties. So that whether in the old or new settlements difficult problems are found that tax the finest students of political economy in their solution. The meeting, therefore, of representatives of 93,000 of the sturdy yeomanry of this great State at this time calls for a care in deliberation and a fine choice in the expression of their sentiments that may well make the delegate who carries these responsibilities pause.

"No fact stands out with more clearness these days than that Agriculture is standing at the parting of the ways. The whole nation has just seen that Agriculture cannot be imposed upon and other businesses escape the injury. The Federal Reserve Board last fall, when they cut us off from European markets, where for a hundred years we have disposed of our surplus, thought they were doing a smart trick and that when food and living was reduced the factories would enjoy better conditions, that wages would fall and all would go on merrily as a wedding feast. But these so-called expert financiers forgot one link in the chain of their deliberate deflation process, and that was when the farmer had no paying market the greatest consumer was forced to quit buying and industry lost its orders and labor its jobs. Once Agriculture would have suffered in silence, and neglect and would have taken out of virgin or rich soils the loss sustained. That day is past. The Farmer will from now on have the consideration that is his due, have a square deal in the thought of the nation, have a system of distribution that is up-to-date or the hum is going to die out of the factory and the smile of prosperity fade from the workman's face.

"There are more people in other callings than ever before who know this important relationship and who are willing to give to Agriculture fair play, but no one but the Farmer knows the farmer's needs, no one but he can voice the ideals of the farmer. If, therefore, at this time he speaks with reason and logic his plea will gain attention and his just demands be met; but if he asks unreasonable things he will be reckoned as asking special privilege and lose the respect of many who would have favored his cause.

"The depth of responsibility lies in the fact that these country homes are conducive of the highest manhood and womanhood and it is our duty and privilege to demand for agriculture such rights and opportunities as will enable the farmer to maintain homes from which will continue to go the splendid boys and girls that have made the nation great.

"Organization plays a large part in such a program and we are glad to be able to say that our organization in Pennsylvania has this year eclipsed the record of any year since possibly the first years of the life of our Order."

From Mr. McSparran's remarks it would indicate that Agriculturists' organizations are slowly, but surely, gaining strength throughout the State of Pennsylvania, and that when the Farmer conclave is in session, serious consideration is given every subject that might possibly tend to better the lot of the average farmer.

Agriculture seeks fair play—only fair play, and has ever shown itself willing to do its part in building up the prosperity of the nation.

SALVATION ARMY LASS TO MAKE LYCEUM LECTURE

The Clearfield High School's Lyceum course has for its next attraction the world famous Maude Ballington Booth of the Salvation Army Miss Booth, will bring with her a message that all Clearfield people should be glad to hear.

She will make her appearance in Clearfield on Friday evening, Jan. 2d, 122, and all who can possibly do so should avail themselves of opportunity to hear what this wonderfully gifted woman has to say.

OLD TIMER VISITS HERE

Frank Mullen, an old time Clearfielder, who has been living in Curwensville the past score or more of years, was a business visitor to the county seat yesterday. "Sankey" found a few of the boys of forty years ago and spent some time in recalling ancient memories and the old friends who had gone before.

Rev. B. H. Conley, of the Presbyterian Church, Curwensville, is ill at his home there.

Indian Summer.
The term, Indian summer, is loosely and incorrectly used to designate any mild period of the autumn after the first frosts have come and the foliage of the hard wood trees, the maple especially, has been turned from green to purple gold and crimson. Some people speak of such a spell of mild sunny, even balmy weather, as Indian summer. The true Indian summer, called by some writers on Indian life and customs, Squaw summer, comes later, and never earlier than November.

KARL'S COUPE PROVES COSTLY TO EVERYBODY BUT FORMER RULER

Expedition To Regain Throne Cost Huge Sum For Defense-Powers Foot Big Bills.

KARL LIVING IN LUXURY

By CHAS. McCANN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
London, Dec. 14.—Though ex-Emperor Karl, of Austria-Hungary failed in his latest attempt to seize the for Karl's expedition. The Entente, One of the favorite amusement besides telegraph bills, was forced to transport him by railway train, gunboat and cruiser to his new home. So, if Karl has nothing else to boast of, he can say he had one of the most expensive week-end parties of the year.

The powers have been far more kind to Karl than to Napoleon. The latter was exiled to a waterbound rock. Funchal is the capital of Madeira, a beautiful island off the coast of Africa, just north of the Canary Islands. It is owned by places is the casino, where one may go every evening and may risk a little cash on the turn of the wheel or a red and black card. An excellent military band gives concerts every evening at this casino. Another one of the places worth seeing is the museum, filled with objects of art. The public buildings are impressive after the Old World style of architecture.

The climate of Madeira is famous. Surely the life of the ex-Emperor should be ideal. The Powers will Hungarian throne, he can sit in his villa at Funchal and laugh at the real losers in his coup—the surrounding nations that are paying the bill.

Karl's adventure cost Czechoslovakia alone over 11,000,000 kronen—not much in dollars but an awful lot to people who get paid in them. The bill is for the partial mobilization necessitated through fear his attempt would be successful.

Rumania and Czechoslovakia mobilized likewise, and their bills are about as much. Hungary also lost heavily in military expenses, and Austria has paid for weeks 20,000,000 kronen a day for military expenses incident to the Burgenland seizure, now declared to be a blind

Portugal, and is famous for its wine. There the exiles are living in luxury in a large and modernly equipped building, originally constructed by a German physician as a rest cure. Karl and Zita, former empress, have no valuables unless you figure a value on a large family, but the Powers will be expected to foot the bill.

Funchal is a garden spot. The city has about 30,000 inhabitants, and practically every nationality in the world is represented. The city has a beautiful cathedral, with a spacious palace for the Bishop. There is also a good opera house, in which every year may be heard the best singers from Madrid and Lisbon.

provide the money and all the one-time royal family will have to do will be to wander through the lovely country, with an occasional climb among the mountains that fringe the city, eat fruit, and sleep to the music of the waves, to say nothing of sipping the mellow, deep red wine in a country where no one ever heard of prohibition.

The harbor is such as to make escape very improbable. Larger ships do not go to the city pier and tourists must use a lighter to go or come. England is today Portugal's political god-father and Karl will have to use an aeroplane if he gets away and aeroplanes are scarce in Madeira.

MRS. EVALINE SHIELDS WOODS
Mrs. Evaline Shields Woods, wife of Cyrus A. Woods, of Bloom township, died Wednesday, Nov. 30th, 1921, aged 76 years.

She had enjoyed excellent health until stricken with pneumonia about a week previous to her death. She was a daughter of Geo. and Sarah Shields, of Indiana county and was married to Cyrus A. Woods in 1868 and was the mother of nine children, four of whom died in their infancy and early youth.

She is survived by her husband three sons and two daughters, as follows: John W. in his farm in Pike township; Adam C. of Grampian; Mrs. Miles Underwood, of Tenth street, Clearfield; Joseph V., living on the homestead and Mrs. Maude E. Eichelberger at home. Also fourteen grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

One sister Mrs. Hahhan Woods, widow of the late I. R. Woods survives. The funeral was held Saturday, December 3rd at her home. Rev. Jones of the Sumner City circuit officiating.

Three of her grandsons and three of her nephews were pall bearers and tenderly bore her to her last resting place in the Woods cemetery.

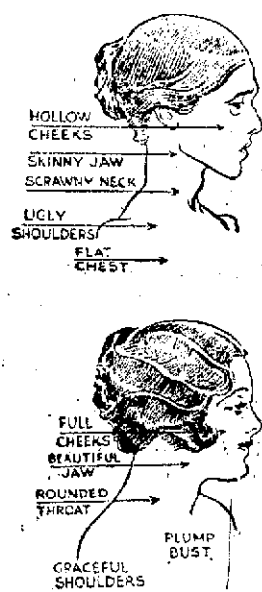

She was a loving and dutiful wife and mother and will be sorrowfully missed not only by her immediate loved ones but by a host who knew and felt her friendship. While devout home worker she realized the influence beyond the realm of home.

She remarked during the past year "We must elect people who want better Government and are good and honest enough to help make it so."

BOY ON LONG BICYCLE TRIP

Sunbury, Pa., Dec. 14.—(United Press)—William Burrell, 16, son of William N. Burrell of this city, is nearly half way on his long bicycle trip to the South and the Pacific Coast, according to latest letters from him received by his father. The boy started out alone by bicycle, camping out at night, to travel through the South and then to cross the continent to California. When last heard from he was in the heat of health and was skirting the Gulf of Mexico toward New Orleans.

Many of Us Are Like That. During an exciting baseball game one young man was doing a great deal of yelling. This seemed to annoy little Bob, who turned to the offender saying, "You'd sound better if you kept still."

Osage Orange and Locust. Osage orange and black locust are much alike in structure, strength, durability and color, although the former usually has more of a golden brownish tinge. These two woods can readily be distinguished by the fact that osage orange gives off a yellowish color if wrapped in a wet rag or placed on a soaked blotter, while black locust gives off practically no color under the same conditions.

IT'S A MISTAKE

Many people in a misguided effort to get rid of kidney backache, rely on plasters, liniments and other makeshifts. The right treatment is kidney treatment and a remarkably recommended kidney medicine is Doan's Kidney Pills. Clearfield is no exception.

The proof is at your very door. The following is an experience typical of the work of Doan's Kidney Pills in Clearfield. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. Mary S. Passmore, 419 W. Front St., Clearfield, says: "I have suffered a great deal for a good many years with kidney trouble. When an attack has come on, my back has been lame and sore and I have had dull, bearing down pains across my kidneys. My kidneys acted too frequently and I had nervous spells. I have used Doan's Kidney Pills at such times. They have always eased the pains through my back and head, regulated my kidneys and removed the nervous and dizzy spells."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Passmore had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs. Buffalo, N. Y.

The High School Glee Club will hold their annual Xmas concert in the High School Auditorium Thursday, Dec. 15 at 8:15 p. m. Under the leadership of Mr. Rhoads, director, the club has been working hard to make this concert a success and all of Clearfield's music lovers should make it a point to be present.

The programme will consist of two parts. The first will be several selections of the well known Xmas anthems and the second of the Old English Xmas Carols. The admission to the concert is free but all will be required to have a ticket. These tickets may be secured from any of the Glee Club members, or by calling at the High School.

A complete program of the concert will appear in tomorrow's Progress.

APPRECIATION FROM
J. B. CROWELL

Mountain Falls, Va., Dec. 12
To the Readers of The Progress:
Perhaps you have all read my letters to the Mothers of Clearfield county. Therefore I take this method of expressing my deep appreciation for the generous Christmas gift I received from a Mother living at Smithmill, Clearfield county. It was received with joy and gladness in my home where affliction has laid a heavy hand.

I wish both old and young a Merry Christmas.

Yours truly
J. B. CROWELL

When a Federal Bureau reminds you that children should not drink coffee or tea—
Why not think of your own health?

The Federal Bureau of Education includes in its rules to promote health among the Nation's school children, the warning that children should not drink coffee or tea.

The reason is well known. Coffee and tea contain drugs which stimulate and often over-excite the nerves, and so upset health.

The harm is by no means confined to children, as any doctor can tell you.

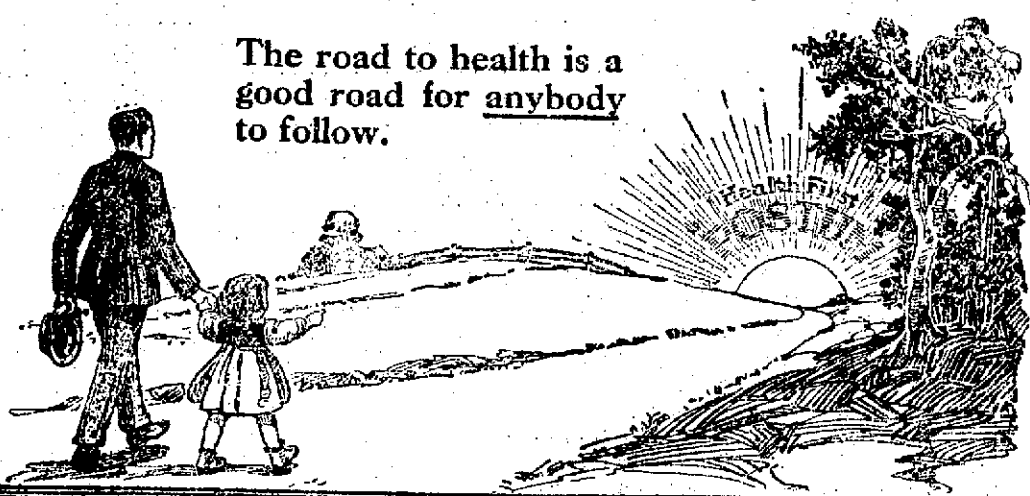

If health is valuable to childhood, it is valuable always. If harm to health should be avoided until bodies grow up, is it worth taking a chance with health when bodies have grown up?

You can have that delicious and satisfying cereal beverage, Postum, with any meal, and be safe—you, and the children, too. There's harm without harm in Postum.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by all grocers.

The road to health is a good road for anybody
to follow.
